THE CURFEW ORDINANCE

As Amended and Passed By The Board Friday Night.

An ordinance prohibiting certain persons from being on the streets, alleys and public places in the city of Greensboro after certain hours, providing penalties for its violation.

Section 1. Be it ordained by the board of aldermen of the city of Greensboro, N. C., Guilford county, that it be and it is hereby made unlawful for any person under sixteen years of age to be or remain in or upon any of the streets, alleys or public places of the city of Greensboro at night after the hour of 9 p. m., from May 1st, to October 1st each year, and 8 o'clock p, m., at all other times, unless such person is accompanied by a parent, guardian or other person having the legal custody of such minor, or is in the performance of an errand or duty directed by such parents, guardian or other person, having the legal custody of such minor person, or whose employment make it necessary to be upon said streets, alleys or public places during the night time after such specified hours.

Sec. 2. It is hereby made unlawful for any parent, guardian or other person having the legal care and custody of any person under sixteen years of age to allow, suffer or permit any such child, ward or other person under said age, while in such legal custody, to go or to be in or on any of the streets, alleys or public places in said city after 9 p. m. between May 1st and October 1st, and 8 o'clock p. m. at all other times, unless there exists a reasonable necessity therefor, or unless accompanied by such parent, gaurdian or other person entitled to the custody of said child.

Sec. 3. Each member of the police force of said city, while on duty, is authorized to arrest without warrant, any person violating the provisions of section 1 of this ordinance, and when such arrest shall be made it is hereby made the duty of said police officer to require the appearance of such person before the mayor of said city on the day following such arrest for trial, and upon conviction the mayor shall administer a reprimand to such offender for the first offense, and for a second or subsequent offense such person shall be liable to a fine not to exceed ten dollars: Provided, that no person not previously convicted of having violated this ordinance, shall be detained in jail or otherwise confined before trial, but the officer making such arrest shall see that the person so arrested is immediately conducted to his or her home, and shall notify the parent, guardian or other such person having legal custody of such minor of said arrest; and, provided, further, that any person who shall violate section 2 of this ordinance shall, upon conviction thereof by the mayor for said city, be fined in any sum not exceeding ten dollars This ordinance to be in effect at once after ratification.

"Do you want the $100,000 capital owned and controlled by the liquor men, forced out of Greensboro?"

"What sort of a citizen would that man make who would demand as a condition of his residence, as his sine qua non, that he be allowed to drink his grog in a beer garden and to buy his gin after night?"

Death of a Good Woman.

Mrs. William P. Carraway died this morning at 9:30 o'clock at her home on Spring Garden street, after an illness of several months. She was for a long time matron at the Normal college, but resigned that position about a year ago on account of failing health. Since that time she has gradually grown worse until this morning when death relieved her suffering. She was an estimable, Christian woman and loved by all who knew her. She was about 53 years old and leaves a husband to mourn her demise.

The remains will be taken, Wednesday morning, to Mrs. Carraway's old home in Wilson, for interment.

Meeting Postponed.

The meeting of the two book clubs to have been held at Dr. Beall's residence tomorrow, (Tuesday) has been postponed till further notice.

Mother Earth Has a Chill.

A very distinct earthquake shock was felt here at 5:20 o'clock this morning, the shaking continued for several minutes. A number of people report that they were awakened by the shock, among them two employees of the Telegram's composing department, which latter fact is sufficient evidence that the shock was severe.

"What will you do with the stores now used by the bars? Won't that give us a surplus of storehouses instead of the deficiency we have heretofore had?"

SUNNY SOUTH SNOW BOUND.

RELIEF WORK IN GREENSBORO.

The Biting Cold Catches Us in the Midst of a Wood and Coal Famine—Fourteen Inches of Snow.

With what joy and glee, we in childhood, always hailed a snow storm! In those days Christmas was incomplete without snow. It gave realism to the pictures of Santa Claus and his reindeer team.

But the same thing under different conditions, instead of being hailed with joyful delight, presents a picture of stern faces which betoken anxious hearts—anxious for those who are out of fuel and scant of food and clothing.

For several days the mercury has registered from 6 to 15 above zero, and when on Saturday afternoon a fine snow began to fall about two o'clock, it found a frozen bed of earth. It kept up until dark and into the night and people retired confidently expecting to rise on Sunday morning to find a three or four inch snow and the sun shining brightly.

But the drifting snow still fell!

Yesterday it continued with unabated fury with the mercury still hanging just above the zero mark with a bitter cutting wind which seemed colder than the snow flakes themselves Then it was that thoughtful people began to feel anxious about the poor and destitute of the city. In conjunction with private citizens, Mayor Tay or took the matter up, and at the various churches committees were appointed to hunt up those in need of fuel and provisions. A short canvass revealed the fact that those who were unable to buy were not the only people who were destitute. The woodyards were empty owing to the recent protracted rains which rendered it next to impossible to haul wood. And for some reason the coal dealers were extremely short on coal.

The committee composed of some of the city's very best people and business men, worked untiringly, however, and had no trouble in securing money and provisions; but how to get wood and coal was not such an easy problem. Two or three carloads of cross ties were secured and wagons started distributing them among those who needed fu l worst. A small lot of cordwood was also found and served out to those who were shivering with cold.

An attempt was made to run a relief train up the C. F. & Y. V. railway for some wood, but the engine available for this work could not make the trip. At noon today the supply had not been replenished and if the extreme cold continues the suffering from a lack of fuel has barely begun.

The various committeemen are bestirring themselves, however, and may be depended upon to do all in their power to supply comforts for those unable to purchase them. A Telegram man called at the mayor's office today and was told that the only trouble was in getting fuel. All who have anything to contribute, either in money or provisions, are requested to leave the same at the mayor's office, where through the perfect organization which has been effected, it will reach the place where it will do the most good.

At this writing it has been snowing for 48 hours without intermission and the ground is covered to a depth of from 12 inches to 3 feet. It is thought that it will average 14 or 15 inches. The clouds are very thin, however, and show signs of early abatement, though the mercury is still hanging around zero.

"Give people mental and physical employment and they won't drink."

Dispensary Mass Meeting,

There will be an important mass meeting of the friends of the dispensary at the court house on Wednesday night at 8 o'clock. All urged to be present.

"They point to Fayetteville: well, are we to be a dead town too?"

"Do you want the clerks and laborers of the saloons forced out and into competition with an already plentifully supplied labor market?"

AGAINST THE DISPENSARY.

A Letter From Mr. Thos. Woodroffe Giving His Views.

Editor Evening Telegram:—The dispensary bill is a direct blow at the working man's liberty. He is engaged from sunrise to sunset during several months in the year, and consequently debarred the use of the dispensary unless he loses time during working hours. From this standpoint he should vote against it.

But if the dispensary be established, then, before the barrooms be closed, provision should be made for establishing two or more public refreshment houses, (one for white and one for colored men) where good food, coffee, and other non-intoxicating drinks can be had at all hours from 6 a. m. till 10 p. m., and especially adapted to the wants of the way-faring and working men.

These houses should be incorporated in the bill, and be coexistent with the dispensary, and under the same control and police supervision, they should be kept clean, warm and comfortable, where every man may find rest and be made to feel at ease and on an equality with the next man.

The prices should be just enough to pay expenses of running it and not for the money there is in it, this paternal feature being quite in accord with the profession of the advocates of the dispensary.

A great deal of abuse has been heaped on the barkeepers, and very unjustly, they do not try to make men drunk. I question if any man has a greater dislike to see a drunken man on their premises or on the streets than they. On the other hand, they refuse to supply any person with a drink when they see he has enough. I once went to every barroom in town and requested them to refuse a man, (in whom I was interested) any liquor under any circumstances, they all readily gave the promise and kept it.

The barkeepers are charged with selling liquor for the money there is in it. What of that? Show me a man in business who is not actuated by the same motive, not excepting professional men, teachers and preachers.

In the Bible we are warned against presuming on our own righteousness and it might be well for us all to remember this.

"Every virtue has its counterfeit" In this case, generosity, moderation, hospitality and charity find their counterfeits in stingy selfishness, narrow mindedness, infringements on the rights and liberties of others, and in uncharitable abuse of those who hold a different opinion, and are not willing to be dictated to as to what they shall eat or what they shall drink.

In all this agitation the wishes, necessities and the convenience of the workingman has been studiously ignored.

Let every unprejudiced man, of every degree, attend the meeting at the court house tonight at 7:30, and hear argument why the present bill should not become law. Respectfully,
Thos. Woodruffe.

"You may drive some few drunkards out of Greensboro, but you know you won't stop whiskey drinking, or lessen the amount of whisky consumed."

"Who is going to run the dispensary?"

All Records Broken.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

Washington, Feb. 13—Extreme weather in the Gulf states. The zero lines extend through central Louisiana, southern Mississippi, southern Alabama, central Georgia. At New Orleans 6 above zero, nine degrees below previous records. Vicksburg 1, Montgomery 4, Atlanta 6 below previous records. Savannah 8 above zero.

"Do you want Italian Dagos, Vandals and Huns or not?"

Trains Tied Up.

Today has been a rough one on the railroad men. The engines here have been 'tied up' nearly all day and the principal work done is cleaning tracks so that through trains may pass. All freight trains have been annulled. The passenger trains come when they can and leave on the same schedule. The passenger trains from the north came in about 6 hours late today and those from the south were nearly as bad. Trains on the branch lines left here nearly on time, but came in several hours late.

Blizzard Increasing in Violence in New York

BUT NO COLDER THAN IT IS HERE

Matters in the Philippine Islands—The Body Guard of Aguinaldo Fire Harmlessly Upon Our Troops.

By Wire to the TELEGRAM.

New York, Feb. 13—The blizzard is increasing in violence with a stiff north wind and snow is falling heavily. It fell all night and is now about eight inches deep. Mails are way behind and trains are delayed. Scarcely any trucking is going on in the streets. Trolley and cable lines are somewhat delayed, but are proceeding fairly well. The thermometer is 11 degrees above zero.

AGUINALDO RETREATS.

Manila, Feb. 13—Aguinaldo has retreated to Pola, eleven miles north, with a body guard. Three thousand Filipinos fired upon our men last night on the outposts but did no harm.

The success of the past week have not diminished the vigilance of the American troops. Guards are posted on all roads leading out of the city to prevent sympathizers of the insurgents from joining the enemy or attacking our rear. Sentries are ordered to allow none but Americans and Englishmen to pass. Even native coachmen are turned back and American and English visitors are obliged to drive their own carriages. One hundred and seventy-four natives who left Iloilo before the news of the fighting around Manila reached there have been arrested here and are still aboard ships.

The Meeting Tonight.

Greensboro, N. C., Feb. 13.
To the Citizens of Greensboro:

We assure you there is no public demand for the dispensary that our opponents are trying to thurst upon us.

We assure you we believe it will injure the advancing tendency of the town in many ways.

We ask you, notwithstanding the bad weather, to show your interest, as free men and Americans, by attending the meeting at the court house at 7:30 o'clock tonight, and protesting against the methods that have been, and are being, employed to thrust this thing upon us, all of which will be explained to you fully and in detail at the court house tonight.

Dont let the awful weather prevent you attending, for you have nothing more important than to stamp out once for all these attempts of a certain element to rule the balance of us.

We have had fires made in the court house and it will be warm and comfortable there.

You will hear eminent speakers, and we hope for a full attendance.

The following gentlemen have volunteered the use of their names as vice presidents of the meeting:

Very truly yours,
J. L. Fonda, Secretary. W Giles Mebane, Chairman.

REIDSVILLE NEWS.

Election For Waterworks—Talk of Dispensary—Other News.

Special to THE TELEGRAM.

Reidsville, Feb. 13—This has been a week of "lay in and keep quiet" with Reidsvillians. With the thermometer at zero our people are froze up. The flying squadron baseball team has made its last appearance before the outside world, and bombardments are to be no more.

March 14th, the election for waterworks comes off and the 'issue' side will no doubt win by a good majority. This, with other needed improvements will put Reidsville on the list as one of the progressive towns of the state. The next thing on docket will be to push the dispensary question before the people. So far everybody has been quiet on this subject, but ere long we will be in line with Greensboro and have a strictly first-class dispensary system, as we understand you all are to have.

The town has been doing great good lately in helping the poor. The Edna Cotton Mills on Saturday ordered a number of carloads of wood to deliver to their operatives free of charge.

One of the most interesting social events of the season will be the military reception which comes off at the armory hall the last of this month. The Rifle's military band will be on hand and make music for the occasion. By the way, we have a splendid band now, although a very young one is fast becoming recognized as one of the leading of the south. This band has been recommended to become the Third regiment band of the North Carolina state guard.

"Would a police regulation which has been found to be essential to the good order and welfare of a neighboring mill village, be ruinous to the growth and prosperity of the city of Greensboro?"

"Don't you know that many farmers will go to Winston and Durham with their tobacco, when they find the drink they took in Greensboro is registered and their enemies at home have come here and looked up the registry?"

THE SECOND IMPEACHMENT.

Judge Jones Was Impeached in 1873—Judge Norwood's Case.

Raleigh, Feb. 11—The house of representatives of the general assembly of North Carolina today passed a resolution recommending the impeachment of Judge W. L. Norwood, of the twelfth judicial district. The committee to which was referred the impeaching resolution after investigating the evidence, reported as follows:

"First, that W. L. Norwood, judge of the superior court of North Carolica for the twelfth judicial district, as a matter of law is subject to impeachment.

"Second, that the said W. L. Norwood is a habitual drunkard, and has been publicly drunk while exercising the duties of his office.

'Third, that the said W. L. Norwood should be impeached."

On this report the following resolution was framed and adopted by the house:

"Resolved, that W. L. Norwood, a judge of the superior court of North Carolina be impeached of high crimes and misdemeanors in office.

"Resolved, That a committee of three be appointed to go to the senate, and at the bar thereof, and in the name of the house of representatives and of all the people of the state of North Carolina, to impeach W. L. Norwood, judge of the superior court of North Carolina, of high crimes and misdemeanors in office, and acquaint the senate that the house of representatives will in due time exhibit particular articles of impeachment against him and make good the same, and that the committee do demand that the senate do take order for the appearence of said W. L. Norwood to answer said impeachment."

These resolutions were adopted after a debate of three hours by a vote of 62 to 31, and a committee was appointed as recommended.

This is the second time in the history of North Carolina that a judge has ever been impeached. Judge Jones was impeached in 1873 for a similar offense.

"Are the people of Guilford satisfied to break up the bars and have only one dispensary in the county, and they receive only twenty pr. cent. of its profits?"

"What sort of a citizen would that man make who would demand as a condition of his residence, as his sine qua non, that he be allowed to drink his grog in a beer garden and to buy his gin after night?"

"Are the dispensaryities representing truth in creating the impression that we are a drunken, debauched town?"

MONDAY, FEB. 13, 1899.

According to the best information gathered to date the only business injured by the dispensary is the whiskey business.

Is it not as essential to the success of some of our city manufacturers to keep the temptations of open saloons away from their employes as it is in the case of those who control mill villages?

Capt. Day, Governor Russell's third appointee as superintendent of the penitentiary in the last two years, refuses to surrender the institution in response to the demands of the new directors elected by the legislature. Legal proceedings will be instituted.

Greensboro's beautiful snow poets are all snowed under this time. Instead of arousing poetical sentiment a snow twelve inches deep with hard frozen ground beneath it and a biting cold breath above it is an appalling spectacle in a city where there is a wood famine.

During our little cold snap, says the Charlotte Observer, that is even freezing the orange blossoms in Florida, the boys in the trenches in the Philippine Islands are complaining of the heat. Six men in the Manila camps were sent the hospital the other day, overcome by arrows of the sun.

What a pity that Judge Norwood chose to deliberately stay on the track and be knocked off by impeachment. Such proceedings have been decided upon by the legislative committee to which the matter was referred. The Judge's friends should have persuaded him to resign and avoid the further disgrace that awaits him.

Why should the people of a city enjoy a larger share of "personal liberties" than those who inhabit a mill village? Are not the mill village people citizens of free America? Are they to be restricted in a greater degree than their neighbors because their conditions are different? What's the matter with American freedom, anyhow?

No law, however just or meritorious, will be a success unless backed by the moral sentiment of the community to which it applies. So with the curfew law passed by the board of aldermen last Friday night. If it is to accomplish the good for which it is intended it will require the hearty support and endorsement of parents. The officers will be powerless to enforce it unaided by them.

Our frinds, the anti-dispensary men, are reminded that the preachers are not alone to blame for the movement which is destined to curtail some of the precious "personal liberties" of the drinking people. However, a movement which has the endorsement and support of the ministry, is not to be condemned for that reason, is it? Though they may, in the wisdom of some men, be called "cranky" and "fanatical," our observation has been that some mighty good men, men of broad minds, men who even possess a good deal of hard common sense, are in the ministry!

TURNED THE TABLES.

A STORY OF ARTEMUS WARD AND HENRY J. BYRON.

The Famous Wit Started In to Have Some Fun With the Dramatist, but Found in the End That He Had Met His Match at Chaffing.

What follows relates to the first meeting of the late Henry J. Byron and Artemus Ward. It was at the Savage club after one of the Saturday dinners, and Tom Robertson suggested to Artemus to have a tilt with Byron and, if possible, draw him out. The genial showman had only been in England a few days, but he knew Byron's "metier" and went for him in this fashion:

"I fancy I have seen a face like yours before. Did you ever have a brother Alonso?" Robertson was behind Artemus and winked at Byron.

"Alas, I had!" replied the dramatist, instantly catching the situation.

"He was a mariner, engaged on the deep?"

"That's so."

"You haven't heard of him for five years?"

Byron affected to be lost in reflection and deliberately replied: "It's five years ago this very day. How curious you should mention it, sir!"

"Well, sir," replied Artemus, taking out his handkerchief and pretending to wipe away a tear, "I sailed the salt sea with your brother. We were wrecked together in the gulf of Mexico, and before help came I killed and ate him! The moment I saw you I recognized the likeness. He was a good fellow, full of tender feeling."

"I am glad you found him tender," interrupted Byron, also pulling out his handkerchief.

"But, sir, I am awfully sorry I ate him," said Artemus in the most imperturbable fashion. "Had I known I should ever meet his brother I am sure I'd have gone without food some weeks longer. But I was driven to it, and you will forgive me, won't you? I liked Alonzo," and he offered his hand to Byron, which the latter shook with cordiality.

"Excuse my emotion, won't you?" gasped Byron in his handkerchief. "He never wrote and told me what had become of him. I hope he agreed with you."

"A slight indigestion afterward. He was a little tough," replied Artemus, "but we'll not speak of that. We both suffered. He suffered most. But remember, sir, the law can't touch me now. It was stern necessity, and necessity, as you may have heard, knows no law. But I am willing to pay you damages for the loss. About what would you think a fair compensation?"

"Don't mention it," said Byron, who now thought it time to turn the tables. "I think your name is Ward?" said he.

"Yes."

"Artemus Ward?"

"Quite so."

"You had a father?"

"I had."

"He was a Yankee peddler in his own country, was he not? Sold bug pizen and fine tooth combs?"

"You've hit the comb—I mean the nail—on the head."

"He died in the black country of England, did he not?"

"He did."

"Well, I killed him. I knew you were his son the moment I laid eyes on you. He was a nice old gentleman, and I made his acquaintance in Staffordshire. He wished to go down a deep coal mine; so did I, and we went down together, had a good time, explored, lunched with the miners, drank more than was good for us and proceeded to return to Mother Earth's surface. After you have been down a mine you are fond of your mother, I assure you. The prodigal felt nothing to what I experienced. We entered the huge basket and were being slowly drawn toward the mouth of the pit when I saw the old rope was about to snap under the strain. It was a perilous, a horrible, a critical moment. The weight of two men was too great, and your father was a broad, bulky man. Self preservation is the first law of nature. An instant more and we were both lost. We seemed to be about 50 feet from the top.

I hastily called your father's attention to something—implored him, in fact, to look down the mine. He did so, and as I gently tipped him over he went whirling and crashing to the bottom. It was rough on him, but I saved myself. I ciphered it out on the instant like this: He is an old man, nearly bald, deaf in one ear, two teeth gone in front, with only a few years to live. I am half his age, strong and healthy, the father of a young family, with a career before me, a comedy to finish for the Haymarket and a burlesque accepted at the Strand. Now, I ask you, under the circumstances, did I not behave nobly?"

"You did, you did!" sobbed Artemus. "I would have acted that way myself."

"I am glad to find you so intelligent. You ate my brother and found him tough, and I am the assassin of your dear old father," continued Byron, keeping up the farce of pretended emotion. "We are both avenged. Let us draw a veil over the past and never allude to these heartrending incidents again."

"Agreed. We cry quits. Shake!" roared Artemus, extending both hands and dramatically dashing a flood of imaginary tears from his eyes. Then he summoned a waiter, glasses round were speedily ordered, and everybody was full of congratulations upon the ready manner in which the two wits had conducted their impromptu chaff.—Exchange.

A MONOMANIACAL WITNESS.

How His Phase of Lunacy Was Developed During a Trial.

"That calls to mind a queer experience of my own," said a lawyer who had listened to a story. "Some years ago I defended a fellow for murder in a little southern town, and the worst witness we had against us was an old German who was a stackbuilder by trade. A stack, by the way, is merely another name for a big chimney.

"The old fellow was perfectly honest and gave his evidence in such a clear, straightforward manner that I felt my client was doomed unless I could think of some way to break him down. While I was cudgeling my brains a friend whispered to me to ask him how high he could build a stack. 'What do you mean?' I asked, in surprise. 'Never mind,' said my friend. 'Just slip in that question and see.'

"So at the tail end of the cross examination I paused, as if struck by an afterthought, and said, 'You are a stackbuilder, I believe?' 'Yes, sir,' replied the witness. 'Well, sir,' I continued, 'about how high can you build'— I never got any further. A swift, inscrutable change flashed over the German's face, and he rose excitedly from his chair. 'As high as der sky!' he roared. 'So high dose angels come around it like birds!'

"In five seconds he was raving. You see, the man was a monomaniac—sane on every subject but one, and my friend happened to know his weak spot. It is hardly necessary to say that his evidence in regard to the homicide was promptly ruled out by the judge, and as there was no other witness of importance my man was cleared. The rascal should have been hanged and would have been but for the lucky reference to the stack."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

TWO OF THEM.

Private O'Mars' Tart Retort to His Unaccommodating Colonel.

Here is a story told of Patrick O'Mars, a private in the Ninth regulars: Not long ago he went to the colonel, who was a severe disciplinarian, for a two weeks' leave of absence.

"Well," said the colonel, "what do you want a two weeks' furlough for?"

Patrick answered, "Me woife is very sick, and the children are not well, and if ye didn't mind she would like to have me home for a few weeks to give her a bit of assistance."

The colonel eyed him for a few minutes and said: "Patrick, I might grant your request, but I got a letter from your wife this morning saying that she didn't want you home; that you were a nuisance and raised the devil whenever you were there. She hopes I won't let you have any more furloughs."

"That settles it. I suppose I can't get the furlough then?" said Pat.

"No, I'm afraid not, Patrick. It wouldn't be well for me to do so under the circumstances."

It was Patrick's turn now to eye the colonel as he started for the door. Stopping suddenly, he said:

"Colonel, can I say something to yez?"

"Certainly, Patrick. What is it?"

"You won't get mad, colonel, if I say it?"

"Certainly not, Patrick. What is it?"

"I want to say there are two splendid liars in this room, and I'm one of them. I was never married in me loife."—New York Tribune.

She Studied French.

Four young women were walking together on Charles street today and engaged in animated conversation.

"What do you think I done today, Clara?" said one. "I translated 40 pages of French exercise. Wasn't that fine?

"Fine," said the other, "I should say it was. I wish I had done as good. I only translated 20."

Comment is unnecessary, but one feels like asking, Is this a sign of the times? Is what Mme. Butterfly called "United States American English" being neglected for the so called accomplishments?

One can forgive the woman who, gazing at some renaissance lace, blandly remarks, "Ah, that is the 'Rennysant,'" but for the girl who assiduously studies French and murders English meanwhile, as Macbeth murdered sleep, there seems no possible excuse.—Baltimore News.

What Is a Signature?

When Constable was requested to put his signature to one of his pictures, he answered, "Why, my dear sir, it is signed all over." Let the preacher preserve his personality, and his sermon also will be "signed all over." A number of Thackeray's pen and ink sketches were sold not long since in London, and, although they bore no monogram or signature, no one disputed their genuineness. A true preacher also cannot be hid.

That which John had seen and with his own hands handled of the word of life could never be to any other person just what it was to him. A preacher who puts himself into his sermon is as readily detected in his sermon as anywhere else. Even his apprehension of truth, his way of looking at it, his fashion of delivering it, is all his own. Let us repeat it. His sermon will be "signed all over." —Homiletic Review.

No Cure—No Pay.

That is the way all druggists sell Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic for Chills and Malaria. It is simply iron and quinine in a tasteless form. Children love it. Adults prefer it to bitter nauseating tonics. Price, 50c.

The smallest things may exert the greatest influence. De Witt's Little Early Risers are unequalled for overcoming constipation and liver troubles. Small pill, best pill, safe pill. Howard Gardner.

Judge McPherson, in the Dauphin county court, has finally decided that the Northern Central Railway company must pay a state tax of $4,950.02.

George Foster, in jail at Wilkesbarre, Pa., charged with victimizing several jewelers, is believed to be a notorious crook who is wanted in several New England cities.

Edward and William Whenneu, brothers, fought at Shamokin, Pa., and in the struggle the former's leg was broken and the latter was burned by the upsetting of a stove.

Eczema! The Only Cure.

Eczema is more than a skin disease, and no skin remedies can cure it. The doctors are unable to effect a cure, and their mineral mixtures are damaging to the most powerful constitution. The whole trouble is in the blood, and Swift's Specific is the only remedy which can reach such deep-seated blood diseases.

Eczema broke out on my daughter, and continued to spread until her head was entirely covered. She was treated by several good doctors, but grew worse, and the dreadful disease spread to her face. She was taken to two celebrated health springs, but received no benefit. Many patent medicines were taken, but without result, until we decided to try S. S. S., and by the time the first bottle was finished, her head began to heal. A dozen bottles cured her completely and left her skin perfectly smooth. She is now sixteen years old, and has a magnificent growth of hair. Not a sign of the dreadful disease has ever returned.

M. T. SHORE,

Don't expect local applications of soaps and salves to cure Eczema. They reach only the surface, while the disease comes from within. Swift's Specific is the only cure and will reach the most obstinate case. It is far ahead of all similar remedies, because it cures cases which are beyond their reach. S. S. S. is purely vegetable, and is the only blood remedy guaranteed to contain no potash, mercury or other mineral.

Dangers of the Grip.

The greatest danger from La Grippe is of its resulting in pneumonia. If reasonable care is used, however, and Chamberlain's Cough Remedy taken, all danger will be avoided. Among the tens of thousands who have used this remedy for la grippe we have yet to learn of a single case having resulted in pneumonia which shows conclusively that this remedy is a certain preventive of that dangerous disease. It will cure la grippe in less time than any other treatment. It is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by C. E. Holton.

Florida and the South.

Opening of the Social Season and inauguration of the Magnificent

New York & Florida Limited Service

JANUARY 16, 1899.

The opening of the Florida season will be signalized this year as usual by the placing in service of the "New York and Florida Limited" between New York and St. Augustine, Fla. This is acknowledged to be the finest train in the world, in its appointments, luxury and detail of finish, and the first of these trains was constructed by the Pullman company for the use of the President of the United States on official tours.

"The New York and Florida Limited" leaves New York daily except Sunday at 11:50 a. m., via the pennsylvania Railroad, the Southern Railway, Florida Central & Peninsular R. R. and the Florida East Coast Railway, and reaches St. Augustine at 2.20 p. m. the following day, making the run, which exceeds 1,000 miles, in little more than twenty-four hours. No train has attracted so much attention, and its fame has been heralded wherever railroading is known. It is composed of Pullman compartment cars, each room being finished in different woods and supplied with private lavatory and toilet; Pullman drawing-room sleeping cars of the latest pattern and finish; a royal club car for the gentlemen; an observation car with a handsome drawing room at its rear opening on to a wide platform; a library car, and dining car, in which the service and the cuisine rank with the finest New York hotels. This "New York and Florida Limited" runs through solid to St. Augustine with the exception of one car which is detached at Columbia, S. C., and goes through to Aiken, which it reaches at 9:35 the next morning after leaving New York, and Augusta at 9:50. Brunswick and Jeckyl Island are conveniently reached by this train at 12 o'clock noon through the perfect connections afforded at Everett, Ga.

There are two other fine trains between New York ond Florida via "The Florida Short Line," one the "Washington and Southwestern Vestibule Limited," leaving New York at 4:20 p. m. daily, and the "United States Fast Mail," leaving New York at 12:05 midnight. The former train carries through Pullman drawing room sleeping cars between New York, Jacksonville and Tampa, and also offers Pullman sleeping car service between New York and Augusta, Ga., with connections for Aiken, Brunswick and Jekyl Island. The latter carries through drawing room sleeping cars between New York and Jacksonville, connecting with parlor car service to points on F. C. & P. R. R. and F. E. C. Ry. Dining cars are operated on all trains of the Southern Ry. "The Florida Short Line" in connection with the Florida East Coast Railway to Miami offers the most direct, quickest and delightful service to Nassau, Havana and Key West. For full information, reservations, etc., apply to J. L. Adams, G. E. A., F. C. & P. R. R., 353 Broadway, New York, or to A. S. Thweatt, E. P. A., Southern Ry, 271 Broadway, New York.

PA AND FREDDIE ABOARD.

An Exciting Time For Which There Was Really No Occasion.

As a passenger train on the Hannibal was pulling out a tall conntryman, incumbered with four bundles, a scythe snath, an ax handle, a bag of bananas and a small boy, came out of the depot and began to take his bearings. Up and down the tracks his gase wandered, up and down the long lines of coaches drawn up under the sheds, and at last, as the rear coach was passing him, he caught sight of the moving train.

"Come on, Freddie! That she goes!" he yelled and began to transfer some of his belongings from his right hand to his left as he ran. Freddie made an amazing record for one whose legs were so short, and they were soon beside the steps on the rear end of the last coach. There was a man standing on the platform.

"Hay, stop 'er, stop 'er!" cried Freddie's pa. "Put on that ar wind brake, mister! Pull that ar rope up over your head and make 'er stop!"

But the man only reached down and caught Freddie, who was leaping and swinging and dragging by turns in his vain efforts to make his short legs stretch far enough to get his feet on the lower step. Pa held on to him with one hand and the man on the platform finally succeeded in drawing him up. Pa slung the banana bag after him. It slid on across the platform and went overboard on the other side. Pa made a leap for the steps, dropped a bundle and stooped to pick it up. The recovery of the bundle took but a second, but the train was getting well under way and was a tail's length ahead when he began the chase again. One wild spurt, with his coattails standing out behind him, a reckless leap, and pa, too, was aboard, but a bundle containing an undershirt had been lost in the tussle.

An employee of the depot picked the bundle up, and a section man who happened by appropriated the bananas to his own refreshment. The crowd that had breathlessly awaited the result of the race melted away, and the depot attendants, who had been preparing to pick pa up with shovels, went about their duties.

Half an hour later a very angry man came prancing down the depot platform. He was holding a small boy by one hand, and the ends of an ax handle and scythe snath protruded from under his arm.

It was pa. He approached a depot official and said:

"Why didn't you tell me that wasn't the Wabash? I wanted the Wabash; that's what I wanted."

The official tenderly handed pa his new undershirt and replied in the soft tones that soothe the ruffled soul:

"I believe you forgot to ask me."—Kansas City Times.

INSISTED ON PAYING.

A Man Who Wouldn't Accept Legal Advice For Nothing.

The other day an old fellow slouched into Attorney Oscar Kahn's office, on Legal row, and introduced himself as Mr. Smith, Jones, Brown, or something, of a neighboring county. He said he wanted to consult a lawyer and was accorded a seat and one of the attorney's sweetest smiles.

He then explained that while he was away from home the sheriff or some deputy had attached his wife's sewing machine and bureau for taxes. He did not propose to tolerate such imposition, he declared.

"What is the amount of taxes?" inquired the lawyer.

"Lemme see—$1.38," was the reply.

The lawyer could not conceal a smile, but hastened to say: "Well, Mr. Smith, if you want my advice, it is to go back and settle that small amount. It looks like the easiest and best way out of it."

The old fellow thought a moment and replied that he believed he would. Answering, he asked, "How much do I owe you?"

"Oh, nothing, sir," was the reply. "I won't charge you anything for a little advice like that."

"But I allus pays fer whut I git and want ter pay yer jes' the same."

"Oh, that's all right; come in again some time when you need advice on something more important, and we'll square it then."

"Naw, I want ter pay it now. Jes' spoil out. If it's 25 cents, I'll pay it. If ye want 50, there it is!" And he threw down a half dollar and left.—Paducah (Ky.) Sun.

Harking Back.

Mrs. Acklins—I don't want to be impertinent, but how old are you anyway? Some of the ladies were discussing your age at the club the other day, and several of them claimed that you were at least 35, but I insisted that you were not more than 33.

Mrs. Biswick—I'm glad you were so kind. Of course you didn't mention the fact that you were ready to leave the grammar grade when I was in the primary class at school, did you?—New York World.

Why, of Course.

"I've called to tell you, sir, that the photographs you took of us the other day are not at all satisfactory. Why, my husband looks like an ape!" "Well, madam, you should have thought of that before you had him taken."—Household Words.

The Egyptian women wore bangle hoops of gold in their ears, which were regarded as the wearer's choicest possessions, and were parted from only under direst stress. The golden calf was supposed to have been made entirely from the earrings of the people.

The death penalty is rarely enforced in Germany, Austria, Denmark or Sweden. In New York 11 out of 12 murderers escape without any punishment, and in the United States only one murderer in 50 suffers capital punishment.

La Grippe is again epidemic. Every precaution should be taken to avoid it. Its specific cure is One Minute Cough Cure. A. J. Shepherd, publisher Agricultural Journal and Advertiser, Elden, Mo., says: "No one will be disappointed in using One Minute Cough Cure for La Grippe." Pleasant to take, quick to act. Howard Gardner.

A Wartime Hiding Place.

J. H. Gore writes an article for St. Nicholas describing some peculiar "Hiding Places In Wartimes." Those he tells about were all in one house in Virginia, near a town which changed hands, under fire, 82 times during the war. Mr. Gore says:

With fall came the "fattening time" for the hogs. They were then brought in from the distant fields, where they had passed the summer, and put in a pen by the side of the road. And, although within ten feet of the soldiers as they marched by, they were never seen, for the pen was completely covered by the winter's wood pile, except at the back, where there was a board fence through whose cracks the corn was thrown in. Whenever the passing advance guard told us that an army was approaching the hogs were hurriedly fed, so that the army might go by while they were taking their after dinner nap and thus not reveal their presence by an escaped grunt or squeal. Fortunately the house was situated in a narrow valley, where the opportunities for bushwhacking were so great that the soldiers did not tarry long enough to search suspected wood piles.

On one occasion we thought the hogs doomed. A wagon broke down near the house, and the soldier went to the wood pile for a pole to be used in mending the break. Luckily he found a stick to his liking without tearing the pile to pieces. This suggested that some nice, straight pieces be always left conveniently near for such an emergency, in case it should occur again.

Available Testimony.

The following story was told by Major Mansis of a Vincennes lawyer who appeared for the defendant in a trial by jury and put on the witness stand a boy from whose testimony he expected to gain a great deal. To the confusion of the attorney, the story told by the boy was greatly to the detriment of the defendant, and the attorney set to work to show that the boy was "worthless."

"What is your occupation?" he asked the boy.

"I work on my father's farm," the witness replied.

"You don't do much but sit around, do you?"

"Well, I help my father."

"But you're worthless, aren't you?" was the attorney's decisive question.

"I don't know whether I am or not," retorted the witness warmly.

Then the attorney took another tack. "Your father's a worthless man, isn't he?"

"Well, he works about the farm."

The attorney here fastened an eye which gleamed with triumph on the jury and nailed the boy with a glance from the other and said, "Isn't it true that your father doesn't do enough work to prevent his being called worthless?"

The boy had chafed under these unpleasant questions, and, summoning his courage, he said loudly: "If you want to know so bad whether my father's worthless, ask him. There he is on the jury."—Indianapolis Journal.

The Marrying Age.

At what age do people marry? The most popular time for a woman to get married is from her twenty-first to her twenty-fifth year inclusive. More than one-half of the women who marry at all marry in these five years of their life, and another quarter marry between the ages of 20 and 25, and not more than a third between the ages of 25 and 30. The average age of marrying is just over 26 for women and just under 28 for men. These figures include remarriages. For spinsters only the average age is 25, and for bachelors 26¼.

It is a noticeable fact that in the last ten years the average age of marrying has, for men and women alike, gone up half a year. Taking the complete quarters ending on the last days of March, June, September and December respectively, the December quarter is most prolific in marriages, and the spring and summer quarters come next, about equal, with the March quarter a long way behind.—New York Home Journal.

"Poi" Cocktails.

Every visitor to Hawaii is expected to become acquainted with "poi," the Kanaka's staff of life. The taste for this national dish is undoubtedly acquired, and even after many trials often fails to come at all. This thick, pastelike mixture is made from the taro plant (Colocasia antiquorum), from which originates the "poi" cocktail. In name it is quite as deceiving as the "oyster" cocktail, and those desiring it merely for the name are sadly disappointed on finding that the only liquid it contains is milk.

The "poi" cocktail is prepared by diluting the paste with milk, then adding sugar or salt and serving ice cold. This drink is found very beneficial to dyspeptics and those recovering from fever.—Leslie's Weekly.

A Landscape.

Mrs. Fatpurse—You paint pictures to order, don't you?

Great Artist—Yes, madam.

Mrs. Fatpurse—Well, I want a landscape, with lots of deer and ducks and quail and partridges and pheasants and cattle and sheep and pigs, and so on, you know, and put a lake and an ocean in—fresh and salt water, you know—and be sure to have plenty of fish swimming around, because it's for the dining room.—Boston Globe.

Similarity.

While Frederic Remington was in the west he observed a well executed portrait in a dark room on the wall of a cabin and asked whose picture it was.

"That's my husband," said the woman of the house carelessly.

"But it is hung with fatal effect," urged the artist.

"So was my husband," snapped the woman.

Beards are taxed 10 yen a year in a Japanese village in Awa county, Chiba Ken.

Mr. S. A. Fackler, editor of the Micanopy (Fla.) Hustler, with his wife and children, suffered terribly from La Grippe. One Minute Cough Cure was the only remedy that helped them. It acted quickly. Thousands of others use this remedy as a specific for La Grippe and its exhausting after effects. Never fails. Howard Gardner.

Napoleon at School.

The first few months at school are certainly not the least unhappy of a great life. Papa Charles leaves his sons at Autun, the preparatory school for Brienne, two little waifs in a hostile world. All the other boys are French—enemies and conquerors—and these two, Corsicans and vanquished.

"What's your name?" says a little Frenchman to one of them and according to that time honored formula of schoolboys.

"Nabulione de Bonaparte," he replies in his Ajaccian.

And there is a roar of laughter. They laugh at everything from the first—at his accent, his country, his Paoli, his poverty. One does not like to think of the passion of rage, scorn and hatred that surges into that childish heart. Little Joseph is a great deal more equable and soon takes the teasing pretty well for what it is worth. But Napoleon can't. He remembers now with a torment of regrets the place where he was happy—Mammucia, easy going Papa, Mamma Letizia. He walks about the playground alone, angry, surly, wretched. He begins to learn French "with frenzy." To laugh at him—no one shall laugh at him. "You Corsicans are des laches!" cries some little demon of a schoolfellow. The boy is white with passion, with his eyes blazing. "It is you French who are des laches, with your 20 to 1," says he, and he fisticuffs the little Gaul in a fury.—Pall Mall Magazine.

A Good Old King.

The old Emperor William was announced to pay a visit to Baden-Baden, says a writer in Chambers' Journal, while I happened to be staying there in 1879. Shortly before his arrival he must have accomplished a feat in a railway carriage which a "change artist" at a music hall might have envied. Only a few minutes before the train actually stopped I had at a point on the line seen him in the costume of an old gentleman en voyage. When the station was reached, the kaiser stepped forth on the platform blazing in a magnificent and bejeweled uniform. A little later on the same day his majesty, once more in unofficial costume, was inspecting on foot the pretty things in the shops of the Baden kursaal, rather suggestive, as they are, of a section of the Paris Palais Royal.

Two peasants from the neighboring Black forest, evidently a young man and his sweetheart, wistfully eyed some little object, timidly asked the price, and on hearing it almost tearfully turned away. The grand and kind old kaiser had noted it all. The peasant pair had just reached the exit from the inclosure when one of the people of the shop came up to them, placed a packet in their hands with some such words, murmured low, as, "By the will of the kaiser."—Chambers' Journal.

Friendship Versus Cash.

When "Our Mutual Friend" was published, a highly laudatory notice of the book appeared in a leading journal, which was written by Mr. X., an acquaintance of Dickens and a very clever man, who has been dead for many years. Mr. X. wrote to inform Dickens of the service which he had rendered him, and not only did he receive a grateful, not to say gushing, reply, but the author was so delighted with the timely lift which his book had been favored with that he presented the reviewer with the manuscript of the work, which Mr. X. afterward, it seems, sold for £250.

Anthony Trollope had a stormy discussion with Dickens at a London dinner party about the transaction, asserting with characteristic vehemence that Mr. X was wrong to inform Dickens that he had written the review; that Dickens was much to blame for having taken any notice of his letter, and that the gift of the manuscript should neither have been offered nor accepted, as it was practically bribery and corruption.—Literature.

A Narrow Escape.

Thankful words written by Mrs. Ada E. Hart, of Groton, S. D. 'Was taken with a bad cold which settled on my lungs; cough set in and finally terminated in consumption. Four doctors gave me up, saying I could live but a short time. I gave myself up to my Savior, determined if I could not stay with my friends on earth, I would meet my absent ones above. My husband was advised to get Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and colds. I gave it a trial, took in all eight bottles. It has cured me, and thank God I am saved and now a well and healthy woman. Trial bottles free at C. E. Holton's drug store. Regular size 50c and $1. Guaranteed or price refunded.

Fitzsimmons and Jeffries.

New York, Feb. 10—Bob Fitzsimmons and Jim Jeffries signed articles today for a fight some time between April 24th and May 26th, before the club offering the largest purse. The fight is to be for 25 rounds, or for a finish, if that can be arranged. Marquis of Queensbury rules are to govern, with the exception that there is to be no hitting in the clinches or the breakaway.

AS TO OUTSIDE BARROOMS.

The County Commissioners Will Protect the Citizens.

The agreement below has been entered into and duly signed by the county commissioners of Guilford county, which explains itself and should set at rest any idea or belief that if a dispensary is established for Greensboro the barrooms will move just on the outside and give more trouble than if located where the police can keep an eye on them. The following is the agreement:

"We agree, in case the dispensary system is adopted in Greensboro, not to depart from our past policy of granting no licenses for the sale of liquor in Guilford county.

Who Takes the Risk, You or Your Family?

Read! Reflect! before you answer the question. You cannot take it, and if you do not get an insurance company to carry it for you you force your family to do so. Can they afford it? Life insurance companies stand ready to protect your family against want in event of your death, but none will give you a more safe, equitable or liberal policy than THE FIDELITY MUTUAL LIFE of PHILADELPHIA.

See us for rates on the Anticipated Dividend plan. We can save you from 20 to 33 per cent on your life policy.

Midwinter Closing Sale of Our Large Stock of Shoes.

Once every six months we hold a genuine closing out sale. Our Spring Shoes are now in process of making and before they will arrive we expect to close out the greatest part of our present great shoe stock. Of course we will have to sacrifice profit and even part of the cost of many of our shoes, but we will not summer over any of our winter shoes, no matter how great our loss.

The sales opens Thursday morning, so come early before the sizes are broken up
